

VENUE CHANGE FOR GYPSY

WHY DID WE CHANGE THE VENUE? Prairie Fire Theatre was recently notified that the elevator in Presser Hall, where Westbrook Auditorium is located, is out of order and will not be repaired before our production of Gypsy. Because the lack of an elevator could present a challenge to some of our patrons, we reached out to numerous organizations in search of an alternate venue for our production of Gypsy and were finally able to secure the Astroth Auditorium. We are happy to be able to offer the production in a venue that is accessible to everyone.

IF YOU HAVE ALREADY MADE A RESERVATION...The reservation you made through Booktix is still valid. Unfortunately, at this time we are not able to offer reserved seating in the Astroth Auditorium so the seat you selected in Westbrook Auditorium will not carry over to Astroth. We apologize for this inconvenience and hope that the comfortable seats and excellent views of the stage will make up for the lack of reserved seating for this production.
